

Klippel Feil Fusion Pattern 3

Doctors: This is a Klippel-Feil Fusion Pattern 3 of the cervical spine. It is a female patient I treat. I present it as an excellent example of decompression distraction adjusting benefit since rotatory extension adjustment is not at all tolerable to her. Her distraction decompression is delivered at the occiput dens level and at the C7 through T4 level with protocol II Cox® decompression adjusting. Even pattern 2 and 3 Klippel Feil fusions are best treated in my manipulative hands with long y axis decompression adjusting.

Respectfully submitted,
James M. Cox, D.C., D.A.C.B.R.
March 3, 2005

www.coxtechnic.com

Cox®
Technic